This course lays out next to scenic Atkinson State Recreation Area. The course is well conditioned and the greens are in excellent shape. The terrain is level in most places but there are several bumps, rolls and swales on the first three holes. On number 1, you hit to the top of a knoll and then hit down to a green 20 feet below, or you can opt to fly the knoll and hope for a safe landing. Prairie meadows replete with wild flowers and prairie grass divide several fairways and make for a tough rough. Small cedars, pines and cottonwoods line the fairways. A newly constructed quintet of connected, crystal-clear cascading ponds come into play on four holes. Convenient and relaxing, Atkinson-Stuart C.C. is a good place to play.
