Turn left and go 2.0 miles to the unmarked gravel road on your left (you will see a Red Cloud Municipal Golf Course sign). Turn left and go .55 miles to the entrance on your right.

Red Cloud Golf Club is a spunky, hilly layout situated just east of town. Its fairways and greens are in good shape and the rough has been left native, making it tough to negotiate. The course features large raised greens with three to four foot drop-offs on all sides. If you can hit and hold the greens, you should fare well. Harry Obitz, the designer, made great use of the uneven nature of the terrain. The layout requires accuracy and shot-making skills, especially given the numerous sidehill lies. The tee shot from the blue tee on the sixth is the most interesting on the course. It is completely blind to the fairway. All you can see is a row of evergreens directly in your line. Red Cloud is highly recommended.
